Robert extracts dirt from the air instead of power from the socket

The air washer Robert is an air humidifier and purifier in one. Robert is a pleasant roommate and not only powerful; it is also frugal and needs only 7 W of electricity.

Zug Switzerland, September 2016, The air washer Robert humidifies and purifies the air, thus ensuring a healthy room climate all year round. The powerful air improver evaporates up to 13.2 liters of water per day and is suited for large rooms up to 80 m². And uses from as little as 7 W in energy! With his discs that turn in the water, Robert efficiently filters particles from the air and is thus also the ideal roommate for people who suffer from allergies. By adding a few drops of the desired fragrance oil, Robert scents the room air discreetly and pleasantly.

The slim-line and elegant design of Robert was developed by Stadler Form in collaboration with the Swiss designer Matti Walker. His high performance and low consumption make Robert the most efficient air washer in its category. The intuitive handling is done by an elegant movement of the hand above the device and with a gentle touch of the display. The noble look is rounded off by coated surfaces and sophisticated aluminium.
