Coolness guaranteed: keep a cool head even on hot days

Stadler Form presents the fans Nick, Leo, Finn mobile and Simon

When summer temperatures heat up indoor spaces and air circulation slows down, concentration and sleep quality drop noticeably. To ensure you're prepared for hot days, the fans Nick, Leo, Finn mobile and Simon from Stadler Form provide efficient air circulation, creating a pleasant breeze and a balanced indoor climate. Quiet in operation and featuring a timeless design, they blend harmoniously into living rooms and bedrooms, creating a relaxed, refreshing atmosphere.

Nick – A new addition for stylish and quiet refreshment

The new tower fan from Stadler Form combines a clean, minimalist design with efficient performance. The natural bamboo on the sides makes Nick an elegant home accessory, whilst his slim design takes up very little space. Ten speed settings range from a gentle breeze to a powerful wind, with the Natural Breeze mode providing a naturally varying intensity at the touch of a button. Thanks to his whisper-quiet operation, Nick is also suitable for rooms such as bedrooms, children's rooms and offices. There, he creates a pleasant sleeping and working environment, whilst the 70° swing function distributes the air evenly. As Nick requires very little electricity, he is the ideal companion during hot summer months.

Leo – All-round freshness, now also available in black

The 3D fan Leo is now available not only in white, but also in elegant black. Leo combines powerful performance with stylish design and, thanks to his horizontal and vertical oscillation, provides all-around freshness with a reach of up to eight meters. His four speed settings, from a gentle breeze to a strong airflow, can be easily controlled via remote control.

With his compact size, small footprint, and practical leatherette carry handle, Leo is extremely versatile. Whether in the living room, bedroom, or office, Leo brings refreshing air to every corner. Awarded the European Product Design Award and the Good Design Award, he perfectly combines innovative technology with an elegant appearance.

Finn mobile – freshness wherever you need it

Finn mobile impresses with his flexible usage options. Thanks to his detachable pole, the fan can be used both as a standing fan and compactly as a floor or table fan. On battery power, he runs for approximately 7 hours, providing a pleasant breeze indoors as well as in covered outdoor areas such as terraces, balconies, or gardens. Even at night, Finn mobile offers quiet air circulation and can automatically switch off with the 1- to 8-hour timer if needed.

With eight speed settings, automatic 120° oscillation, and a vertically adjustable fan head up to 90°, Finn mobile allows precise airflow direction, making him a versatile favourite for warm-weather days.

Simon – 3D power for the whole room

As a powerful 3D air circulator, Simon distributes air evenly throughout the room using horizontal and vertical swing functions, and with an airflow range of up to 10 meters, he ensures noticeable air movement even in spacious living areas. His high-quality fabric cover gives him an elegant, homely look and deliberately sets him apart from traditional fans. Ten speed settings, the Natural Breeze mode and quiet operation create customisable comfort and a particularly pleasant atmosphere in the room. The magnetic wireless remote control and the 1- to 7-hour timer round off Simon as a stylish, high-performance fan that skilfully combines function and aesthetics.

Good to know:

Many people believe that a fan cools the air. This is incorrect. A fan relies on natural air circulation and does not actively cool the air in the room. Nevertheless, fans provide a refreshing effect, as the airflow blows away the warm, insulating layer around the skin, allowing sweat on the skin to be wicked away more effectively.
